TEACH Listserv - Join Now to Review or Participate in Real-time Education Discussions

We are excited to introduce the TEACH Listserv. This listserv was created to facilitate collaborative discussion, distribute announcements, share resources, and pose questions amongst the TEACH community. We are hopeful that TEACH members will utilize this listserv as an electronic forum for disseminating information and resources. The TEACH listserv is open to all TEACH members. Messages should be related to the mission of TEACH, teaching, learning and/or education research. If you are interested in subscribing to the listserv, use the following link to join: <http://www.freelists.org/list/teach>. Once you submit your email address, you should receive an email asking you to confirm your subscription. You can post to the list by emailing teach@freelists.org.

HS Talks - Access Free Online Lectures!

HS Talks is a collection of free biomedical and life science online lectures created by experts. They can be used to support the self-directed and self-motivated learning of your students. New lectures are added to their collection monthly providing you with a robust catalog of lectures from which to select. If you are interested in supplementing your curriculum with a selection of their lectures or using it as a resource for students, check out the PDF How to Guide here. HSTalks is a great resource for free presentations on biomedical and life science fundamentals as well as the latest research and developments in the life sciences, medicine, and pharmacology. The content is available to Virginia Tech employees so make sure to use your VTech PID for access to this exciting resource.

Faculty Highlight – Sarah Parker

This month's TEACH faculty highlight article focuses the spotlight on Dr. Sarah Parker. Dr. Parker is innovating the way we look at and teach quality and safety throughout the health system. Click here to learn more about Dr. Parker's teaching roles and her passion for collaboration.
